The movement in loans is less active to-day than yesterday, but still money is in better demand than it was early in the week. There has been no general change in rates, but in many instances 5 per cent loans have been advanced to six per cent. Some of the leans called in yesterday have been again put out to-day. The expansion of the Banks has probably received a check for the present. Several of the street institutions have been calling in freely, but they consider that the necessity for this course will only be temporery. The Weekly Statements of to-morrow must show a considerable falling off in specie, as the Califorria receipts did not arrive in time to have any neutralising effect upon the foreign drain; in addition to which over $700,000 have been drawn from the banks within a short time and sent to Atalanta, Ga., to meet the run or the bank at that place. The Sub Treasury also has absorbed, during the week, about $650,000. The Merchants' Bank has orders to send to New-Orleans and Mobile $200,000 in coin next week. Of the gold forwarded to Atalanta $150,000 it was supposed would be received back again to-day, and the remainder in the course of ten or twelve days. This movement of the Chicago bankers against George Smith's Bank has been a very strong one, but the preparations to meet it are equally so. The officers of this Bank have already redeemed one parcel of $147,000. and another of $210,000, and another of $240,000 is on the way to the Bank for redemption.

The stockholders of the Kuickerbocker Bank are to be assessed to make up a deficiency of $59,245 in the assets of that Bank. They are required to appear in regard to this matter at the office of the Referce, J. W. Edmonds, on the 18th September next.

The Aspinwall boat, the George Law, has arrived with about $1,300,000 in gold on the manifest, being a much larger smount than was anticipated, but we apprehend that in consequence of a change of boat on the Nicaragua route on the Pacific side the amount by that line will be less then usual. Just before the day of sailing it was discovered that the Pacific had some defeet in her boiler which required repair, and the Cortes or Sierra Nevada was put on in herplace. It may be that in comequence of this charge a larger number of shippers than usual sent forward their treasure by the Papama route. The advices by this arrival are favorable, more so than for some months. The mining districts are yielding largely and new and important discoveries have been made. In regard to portant discoveries have been made. In regard to business The Shipping List says:

"Since our issue for the steamer of the 16th inst, the market has displayed a very remarkable degree of activity, accompanied with a material advance in rates for almost ail descriptions of staple goods. The amount of merchandre taken up has also been unastably lerge, and under the influence of the prevailing excitement a disposition to purchase goods on speculation has been generally manifested. In a word, the fornight now closing has been by far the most active one witnessed here for nearly two years past. The amount of goods received during the same period has been very heavy. The bulk of our imports have been from Eastern domestic ports, and in vessels bringing large assorted eargoes. There are also now fully due at this port thirteen large clippers from New-York, Boston and Philladelphis, besides a number of vessels from European and Indian ports. A large proportion of the merchandise received from the Atlantic border had been disposed of prior to arrival, and in most cases particular invoices have changed hands twice and three times since,—in each instance at an advance. We have but a few items of financial interest to reparticular invoices have changed hands twice and three times—in each instance at an advance. We have but a few items of financial interest to report in our present issue. Everything here has moved slong quietly. Money is plenty and obtainable on easy rates, the Banks are discounting quite freely, and with an active business and a fair range, for speculation, our merchants appear in better spirits than we have seen them for many months past. Our accounts from the interior represent the merchants and traders as all enjoying a good trade, while the miners are still meeting with good success. In some sections of the country complaints of a scarcity of water are beginning to be leard, and we will undoubtedly hear more of them hereafter, but the evil is not generally felt as yet. The smaller streams are now drying up, and unfortunately smaller streams are now drying up, and unfortunately the amount of snow on higher ranges of the Sierra is not as large as it usually is at this season of the year; but on the other hand we have many more artificial condouits for water than we formerly had, most of the ditches commenced last year being now completed, so that in any event there will be large sections of the mineral district which will be worked continously throughout the year. From the canses stated above the shoply of Dust reaching the city is not quits so large as it has been, although it is still very great. The Mint is kept actively employed and is running to its unto set capacity, while the Assay Offices are also fairly ergaged. but on the other hand we have many more arti

The winding up of the affairs of Adams & Co. had given rise to charges of all kinds of feauds on all sides, quarrels, personal and legal, and difficulties see ningly interminable. It is stated that Santa Anna has been mixed up with some transactions relating to the coining of Mexican ounces, and that an expose of the whole affair from one recently connected with the house (Jas. King of Wm.) would be made. There was a report of the referee pending before the District Court, which awards Merick G. Reed, et al, $180,000 of the assets. A controversy has arisen between the creditors as to who of the attaching creditors shall have precedence. On the 17th A. A. Cohen (assignee) assaulted Jas. King of Wm, in the street, and Cohen's brother was fined $300 for assaulting T. W. Park, one of Alvin Adams's attorneys.
